

British Columbia

A young grizzly bear searches for salmon during a spawning run in a Canadian river. Its mother won't be far as cubs don't become independent until they are more than two years old.