

Astatine

85

At

Only tiny amounts of this radioactive halogen exist in nature – around 30 g (1.05 oz) in all of Earth's rocks put together. Astatine atoms are formed when francium and polonium atoms decay.

Uraninite, an ore of uranium, contains a very small amount of astatine

ATOMIC MASS (210)

STATE Solid

DISCOVERY 1940 (Dale R Corson, Kenneth Ross MacKenzie, and Emilio Segrè)

