

A morula—a bundle of around 16 cells—has formed by around three to four days after fertilization of the egg.