

ACUPRESSURE WRISTBANDS

One simple solution to help relieve feelings of nausea during pregnancy is to wear acupressure wristbands.

Available from pharmacists, acupressure bands have been clinically tested in the treatment of pregnancy-induced nausea. Unlike anti-nausea drugs, they don't have any side effects and are easy to use.

The elastic bands—one band is worn on each arm—work by applying pressure on the Nei Kuan acupressure point (known as P6). They can be washed and reused as necessary.
