

SUPERNUTRITIOUS SMOOTHIES

Smoothies and juices are a great vitamin C boost, but they are high in natural sugars. If you're suffering from gestational diabetes and need to maintain even blood-sugar levels even, keep your intake of smoothies and juices to mealtimes.

The recommended portion size for fruit juice and smoothies is 5oz. Here are a couple to try:

- Strawberry/banana: fresh or frozen strawberries, banana, plain yogurt, and orange juice.
- Raspberry/orange: fresh or frozen raspberries, orange sorbet, and orange juice.

ASK A DOCTOR

I had some bleeding after I exercised. Should I be worried? If you have vaginal bleeding during exercise with or without cramping, stop immediately and seek medical advice. It's unlikely that exercise is the cause, but you should be checked as soon as possible and before you exercise again.

Bleeding in the first trimester may be due to a number of issues completely unrelated to exercise, but it's important to rule out any problems at the outset. Once you have the all-clear from your doctor, you can begin exercising again.
