

If you play a musical instrument, be reassured that your baby will be tuned in to your performance. As their ears develop, they'll become more responsive to sounds.

RARING TO GO

If, like many pregnant women at this stage of pregnancy, you feel incredibly energized, make the most of it. Here are some ways to direct that energy:

- Get some exercise, including doing some gardening.
- Organize your paperwork and get your finances in order.
- Clear out any clothes that you know you won't wear again.
- Learn to knit or crochet. If you already can, get going on knitting some baby clothes or crocheting a blanket.
- Make time to see all the friends you haven't been in touch with for a while as you may not feel up to socializing in later months.

However good you're feeling, always try to make time to relax and recharge your batteries.
