

The Superman pose This exercise will strengthen your core muscles, keeping your abdomen and back strong, and helping prevent lower back pain. Start from an all-fours position. Keeping your back in a neutral position, lift your left arm in front of you and your right leg up behind you. Don't arch your back or lift your leg higher than the hips. Hold for a count of five and slowly lower. Repeat with your right arm and left leg. Do 10 repetitions on each side.
