

- Somewhere to sleep: your baby can sleep in a crib from birth if you don't want to buy a bassinet. Even if you buy a secondhand crib, you should always buy a new mattress.
- Lots of onesies: don't buy too many newborn size.
- Transportation: a stroller (with a lie-down option until your baby can sit up), or a sling or frontpack to carry your baby.
- Car seat: this is a legal requirement for car travel. Don't buy secondhand.

Here are things your baby can live without:

- Changing station: a mat (or towel) on the floor is cheaper and safer.
- Bottle warmer: heat the milk in a jug.
- Designer wardrobe
- Pack-n-Play: borrow one if necessary.

Save money by shopping online. Scour secondhand shops and garage sales. Swap clothes and toys with other parents.