

each week (at a cost) Cloth diapers need changing more often than disposables. They are slightly more difficult to put on and take off.

- Using a combination of reusable and disposable diapers can work well: buy the occasional package of disposables for when you are out and about or for if you have to leave the baby with a babysitter, but opt for cloth the rest of the time.