

Get into a squatting position. Squat only if you find it easy to hold this position with your heels on the floor and your back straight.

Sit with your left leg stretched out in front of you and right leg bent. Gently twist your body, placing your hands on the floor for additional support.