

The final details of your baby's appearance—including eyebrows, eyelashes, and nails—are now in place and all their internal organs are sufficiently developed for life outside the uterus.