

At fertilization, one sperm penetrates the egg. Once the egg and sperm have merged, they form a single cell called a zygote.