

THE SUPERCOMPUTER

In 2018, the Sunway TaihuLight was the world's fastest supercomputer. Housed in the city of Wuxi in eastern China, it can carry out 93 quadrillion calculations per second. That's twice as fast as the next-most-powerful supercomputer in existence, Tianhe-2, which also happens to be in China.

