

Skeletal system

Without the bony framework of a skeleton, a person would collapse. The skeleton supports and shapes the body and protects vital organs. It works with the muscles to produce movement and also stores energy-rich fat and the calcium we need for healthy teeth and bones.

