

Glittering mineral crystals have built the rocks that make up planet Earth, its spectacular landscapes, and its treasure trove of precious metals, gems, and fossils.

