

Surrounded by tropical forest, the Temple of the Inscriptions was built on top of the pyramid housing the tomb of K'inich Janaab' Pakal, whose reign (615–683 CE) marked the peak of importance of the Classic Maya city-state of Palenque.

