

CONTRIBUTORS

Tony Allen

Tony Allen has written many works on history for the general reader and was Series Editor for the 24-volume Time-Life History of the World.

Dr Kay Celtel

A writer and historian, Kay Celtel has written numerous popular books on subjects ranging from history to architecture, culture, and literature.

R. G. Grant

Historian R. G. Grant is a prolific author of books for adults and children, covering a wide range of topics in cultural, technological, and military history.

Ann Kramer

Having studied history at Sussex University, Ann Kramer has written on topics ranging from women's experiences of war through to black American history.

Philip Parker

Philip Parker is a historian specializing in the medieval world, and has written numerous books including on the Romans, Vikings, and several historical atlases.

Marcus Weeks

Musician and author Marcus Weeks has written and contributed to many books on philosophy, the arts, and the history of the ancient world.

CONSULTANTS

Professor Michael Fisher

Robert S. Danforth Professor of History, Emeritus, Oberlin College, USA

Dr Connor Judge

Postdoctoral Fellow in China Studies, Somaiya Vidyavihar University, India

Professor Tyesha Maddox

Professor of African Diaspora History, Fordham University, USA

Dr Angélica Baena Ramírez

Former professor of History, Acatlan National Autonomous University of Mexico. Guest researcher and lecturer, UNAM UK and UK Mexican Arts Society