

3 Pin the edges of the dart together on the back of the whale, with right side to right side. Make sure the slightly curved edges of the dart are correctly aligned.

4 Leaving a 5mm ($\frac{1}{4}$ in) seam allowance, sew along the pinned edges of the dart. Repeat steps 3 and 4 for the front of the whale.

5 Using the large-eyed needle and black embroidery thread, embroider eyes on the front and back of the whale. Use an embroidery hoop if you wish. Make sure the eyes line up on both pieces.

6 Pin the front and back of the whale together, right side to right side. Start by matching the darts, tucking one inside the other, then work around the edges, making sure the front and back match up perfectly.
