

To add a thin stripe to the ball, pull off a long, thin piece of wool roving in the colour of your choice. Twist the strands into a thin thread and place it on the ball. Work a small section into the ball with the felting needle. When that section is well-bonded, move on to the next. Make sure all the pieces of roving are firmly incorporated into the ball and cannot be pulled off by your baby.

If the water cools, replace it with fresh hot, soapy water.
