

astigmatism

Usually caused by a curvature of the cornea, it is manifested by blurred vision when viewing both near and far objects, depending on various axes.

toric lens

Has various powers depending on the rays' axes of convergence; it is used to offset the visual distortion caused by the cornea.

