

Sight, hearing, touch, smell, and taste are your main senses. Sense organs such as your eyes monitor the world around you and send signals to your brain to keep you aware.

